Alpha Bank Stands by Its working Mothers

Mother's Day symbolizes selfless love, care, and affection, and reminds us of the multiple roles that today's mothers are called to play. At Alpha Bank, we celebrate TOGETHER with all working mothers, recognizing the challenges they face today and standing by them with actions.

Through a webinar titled,

"Shifting mindsets for women in business: Juggling it all or not?"

we shared tips, listened, and discussed with Alpha Bank's mothers the challenges and issues that concern them, with the aim of providing tools and introducing a new way of thinking that will empower women as professionals.

In addition, recognizing the importance of personal time for every mother, as part of this celebration, we granted mothers a few hours off to dedicate to themselves.
